San Jacinto, CA - On Tuesday, June 5, 2018, the City of San Jacinto City Council approved a final map for Parcel Map 37194 to subdivide 1.37 acres creating two parcels and pave the way for the new Wienerschnitzel to develop on San Jacinto Avenue.

The project, which consists of constructing a 1,245 square-foot freestanding drive-thru Wienerschnitzel restaurant building on the southwest corner of San Jacinto and Esplanade, is the latest to be finalized for development. Wienerschnitzel is now added to a list that includes the new Aldi Grocery Store, which recently broke ground, and the new Starbucks, which opened last week, and marks the third new retail development approval for San Jacinto's renaissance of new retail establishments on San Jacinto Avenue.

“The City is excited to welcome Wienerschnitzel, the World's Largest Hot Dog Chain, to San Jacinto,” said City Manager Rob Johnson. “With Starbucks, Aldi Grocer and now Wienerschnitzel coming to town within three months of each other, San Jacinto is definitely one of the hottest retail markets around and experiencing attention from a regional perspective. Our housing starts are continuing to set records for us this calendar year that exceed those over the past 10 years, which is a great economic indicator for our retail recruitment success.”
